And

Steve Orava
King and Spalding

In recent years, subsidies disputes at the WTO have raised a variety of new and challenging issues for Member countries. What are the key WTO principles and issues at stake? What are the implications for the United States and other countries of recent disputes relating to lumber, grain corn, aircraft, DRAMs, and other products? What outcome might be expected from the most recent requests for consultations regarding Chinese import policies? Our speakers will offer their thoughts based on their extensive individual and collective expertise in this area. Jim Mendenhall, until recently General Council at USTR, is now at Sidley Austin. Steve Orava is a partner with King and Spalding who focuses on WTO work and who has represented both U.S. and foreign parties in WTO subsidies disputes.
