

Cesar Remis

Cesar Remis has over 25 years of international experience in the public and private sectors. He advises companies, governments, and international organizations on public and government affairs, regulatory issues, policy communications, market access, and trade policy and integration in the United States, Canada, and LATAM.

He has held various responsibilities in Mexico's trade negotiation team and in the Mexican foreign service, including the position of Chief Trade Negotiator from 2019 to June 2021, where he led all ongoing trade negotiations and coordinated Mexico's trade agenda in Asia, Europe, and Latin America. He completed negotiations of the modernization of FTAs with the EU (2020), the UK (2020), and Singapore (2021), and of several sectoral annexes in the Pacific Alliance.

He was the Senior Official of Mexico (Mexico's SOM) in the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Forum and in the CPTPP, as well as the National Coordinator of Mexico in the Pacific Alliance. He chaired the CPTPP Commission at the Senior Official level during Mexico's Presidency of the Commission. Most recently, he headed Mexico's Office for the Implementation of the USMCA in the United States.

César has been posted to different Mexican Embassies and Representations in North America, Latin America and Europe, which has provided him with a solid and varied international experience, having held different responsibilities, ranging from economic policy and trade negotiations to legislative lobbying strategy and business development.

He has been member of the Boards of Directors of several national and international organizations and worked on regional integration and sustainable tourism projects financed by the World Bank and USAID, as well as on various social projects and initiatives to combat climate change. He is currently President of the Board of Directors of the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of North Carolina in the US.

He holds a degree in Computer Systems Engineering from the Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey (ITESM) in Mexico and a Master's Degree in Business Administration (MBA) from George Washington University in Washington, D.C.
